

Climate Impacts Research Consortium (CIRC) Project Coordinator/Outreach Coordinator

The Climate Impacts Research Consortium (CIRC), a NOAA-funded RISA project, is hiring a Project Manager/Outreach Coordinator to work with a multi-disciplinary research program focused on helping Pacific Northwest communities, organizations, and individuals adapt to changing climate and weather patterns. The individual in this position makes daily decisions about the operation of CIRC, including promotion of team integration and effectiveness, and develops and delivers stakeholder engagement for a wide range of communities in the PNW. For more information about the position and requirements: <https://jobs.oregonstate.edu/postings/91266>. For full consideration, applications must be posted by 6/22/2020. The position is hosted at Oregon State University, which is committed to inclusive excellence by advancing equity and diversity in all that we do. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, and particularly encourage applications from members of historically underrepresented racial/ethnic groups, women, individuals with disabilities, veterans, LGBTQ community members, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community.
